Firm Continues Growth 5 Years After Going at it Alone

BRACH | EICHLER LLC

In 2009, as lawyers in the dissolving Wolf Block began leaving for new firms, the 62-attorney Roseland, NJ, office chose to stick together and form a standalone Firm, now known as Brach Eichler LLC. As managing member John D. Fanburg said at that time, “We have emerged from our association with Wolf Block as a larger, more sophisticated practice than we were before, with a deeper bench of expertise and experience to provide to our clients.” Fast forward to 2014 as the Firm celebrates 5 years as Brach Eichler with a diverse practice, strong client base, peer accolades such as Chambers USA, Best Lawyers and Super Lawyers, as well as being ranked a NJ Top 40 Law Firm by the New Jersey Law Journal.

Today, Brach Eichler is known as a Firm built on professional relationships which features a talented group of professionals, effectively combining individual experience and expertise, who are ready to respond to the challenges confronting their clients. They are able to recognize and seize new opportunities for them. The Firm’s attorneys bring to each matter the knowledge, wisdom and focus that are hallmarks of the finest law firms, and the flexibility, agility and enthusiasm that come from the kind of firm where everyone thinks and acts like an owner.

The Firm has the experience and capacity to staff large matters, yet it also actively seeks and represents closely-held businesses and individuals, in both simple and complex cases. In each instance, the attorneys take the time to understand a client’s business and personal needs to determine how to best achieve their goals in the most effective and efficient manner.

Brach Eichler’s main office is in New Jersey, but its clients are located in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, and increasingly around the country. Its core practice groups are Health Law, Real Estate, Litigation and Trust & Estates. Through these groups it has grown to cover many key practice areas including, Business Transactions & Financial Services, Criminal Defense and Government Investigations, Employment Services, Environmental & Land Use, Family Law, Patent, Intellectual Property & Information Technology, Real Estate Tax Appeals and Tax. In addition, the Firm now has a full-service government affairs and lobbying firm, Brach Eichler Government Affairs, in Trenton, NJ. ■

Executive Committee Members (from left to right) Charles X. Gormally (Litigation), Stuart M. Gladstone (Trusts & Estates), Alan R. Hammer (Real Estate), John D. Fanburg (Health Law) and Mark Manigan (Health Law) meet weekly to discuss the Firm’s current and future direction and to ensure that its growth is matched by stability and calculated business moves.
